

Fictional client session

Between Notes | PDF import and privacy review test

TEST DATA ONLY. All names, contact details, identifiers and clinical details below are invented. Any resemblance to a real person is coincidental. Do not use this document as a clinical record or contact the sample details.

Client details

Client: Maya Lawson

DOB: 14/03/1988

Address: 24 Banksia Road, Fremantle WA 6160

Phone: 0400 000 000

Email: maya.lawson@example.com

NDIS: 431 234 567

Session date: 12/09/2026

Clinician: Ella Mercer

Session material

Maya attended with her partner Daniel. She reported difficulty preparing meals following a wrist injury. Pain was reported as 4/10 during chopping, with no pain at rest. Maya wants to prepare an evening meal independently.

Practised meal preparation using an adapted grip for 15 minutes. Completed the activity with two verbal prompts. No swelling observed. Maya stopped the chopping activity when discomfort increased; the discomfort settled after a short rest.

The clinician noted improved task tolerance compared with the previous session. Maya agreed to practise the adapted grip at home and review in two weeks. No medication changes were documented.

Context for manual privacy review

Maya mentioned that she organises the annual lantern parade for her small neighbourhood. Consider whether this detail is necessary in the note or could help identify someone, even after their name is hidden.